ICA Board welcomes RAA Insurance Chief Executive Tara Page

The Insurance Council of Australia (ICA) today welcomed Tara Page, Chief Executive of RAA Insurance, as a Non-Executive Director of its Board.

Tara brings extensive experience to the ICA Board, having held senior leadership roles in both insurance and law.

Prior to leading RAA Insurance, she served as Chief Governance and Risk Officer and Company Secretary for the RAA Group, navigating the evolving regulatory and risk landscape for South Australia's best-known insurer.

Previously, Tara was a partner at a leading national law firm specialising in corporate law, financial services, and mergers and acquisitions.

She has actively participated in industry governance, serving on various committees and bodies, including a six-year stint as a member of the Takeovers Panel.

Tara holds a Bachelor of Laws (with Honours) and a Bachelor of Health Sciences from the University of Adelaide.

She also holds a Graduate Diploma of Applied Finance and Investment and is a Graduate of the Australian Institute of Company Directors.

Additionally, she sits on the board of the Port Adelaide Football Club.

Quote attributable to ICA President Nick Hawkins:

I am pleased to welcome Tara to the ICA Board.

Her leadership experience, deep understanding of the insurance industry and strong governance expertise will be assets to the Board.

Tara's local knowledge and demonstrated commitment to community engagement will be a welcome addition to the Board as we look to navigate the challenges of insurance affordability, risk mitigation and regulatory changes ahead for the insurance industry.
